Why is my AARP discount not showing on Expedia?

If your senior savings are failing to display correctly during your search queries, it is highly likely that you are browsing on the primary public travel website rather than the dedicated co-branded portal +1-888-438-1454 (US) OR +1-888-438-1454 (US). Standard consumer profiles on the main commercial homepage do not feature the backend database integrations required to verify senior membership data, meaning your special rates will remain hidden until you enter the correct member gateway +1-888-438-1454 (US) OR +1-888-438-1454 (US). To fix this common user oversight, log out of the main travel site, clear your internet browser cookies, and navigate straight to the official AARP Travel Center website to sign back into your account +1-888-438-1454 (US) OR +1-888-438-1454 (US). Furthermore, you should carefully inspect your personal profile dashboard to ensure that your membership identification number is entered accurately and has not recently expired +1-888-438-1454 (US) OR +1-888-438-1454 (US). It is also important to realize that certain baseline flight itineraries and budget accommodation properties choose to opt out of external promotional programs, meaning the specialized senior badge will only appear on participating inventory listings +1-888-438-1454 (US) OR +1-888-438-1454 (US). If your discounts still refuse to populate after verifying these steps, contacting the dedicated helpline will allow a representative to resolve the glitch +1-888-438-1454 (US) OR +1-888-438-1454 (US).
